Traditions take on new significance each time we involve ourselves in doing them.

Traditions are not thought of as being

Unnecessary,
Useless,

Repetitious,

or Dull.

On the contrary,
we perpetuate them because

They have meaning to us . . .

assume new force each time

we perform them.

Magic?

Special?

Consistent?

Yes!

Something to look forward to.

Distinctive touches that make Taylor what she is:

Buffet,

Spiritual Emphasis Week

mail at 8:25,

(A habit and yet a tradition)

Reade Memorial
Lectures,
collateral,
Christmas holidays,
Fine Arts
Festival,
Football,
Homecoming,
Fall coming,
the leaves
crinkling
underfoot,
the woods,
the first snow,
books untouched,

Fond memories of events that are gone from reality . . .

Yet they live on in our hearts and minds.

They will remind us of what it was like

When we “used to be at Taylor.”

Ring-down for girls,

shower for the fellas,

“Cheeze samwitches” on Sunday evening,

(But remember the buffet!)

Winter banquet,

first flowers,

Spring banquet

invoke memories of those happenings of the past . . .

they make Taylor what she is . . .

reasons we will hate to leave her at the end of our visit.

But in a very special way
we won't be parting . . .
. . . completely,
for each one of us
will go away
remembering Taylor, and Taylor will remember.

Yes,

Taylor is People and Places

and Things.

But most of all, Taylor is the combination,

the tradition of Persons at Places . . . doing Things.

OUR FIRST FAMILY: Mother Duryea, Mrs. Martin, President Martin.

June, 1963

Dear Taylor Family:

We welcome this opportunity of expressing our appreciation to you as a student body and to you individually for all that you mean to us at the president's home.

Although we are well aware that a college could not exist without students, we also realize that there are students and students! Among the many reasons why we appreciate you, here is one.

Many colleges have high academic and cultural standards. Some also have spiritual ideals. Very often, however, the pressure from the student body is to lower rather than to maintain or raise the religious and moral standards of the institution. We especially appreciate those of you at Taylor who are concerned with and as students do your part in keeping all three at maximum level.

The complete Christian life as taught by Jesus should develop a full, well-rounded personality. That is the purpose of our college; that is why we are a part of the Taylor program; and that is why we are grateful for you who are also endeavoring to exemplify by word and deed this higher calling.

As the years will pass and you will move on to the various fields of service to which God has called you, we look forward with keen anticipation to your growth and development in each of these areas which experience and years of living in the midst of joy and sorrow, success and failure, prayer and effort alone can achieve.

Sincerely,

The President's Family

DR. B. JOSEPH MARTIN, President.

Taylor University is scheduled to open her doors in Fort Wayne during the month of September 1964. Dr. B. Joseph Martin, our president, is directing the many aspects that are gradually bringing this move to a successful completion. His duties often take him away from campus as he travels around the country spreading the idea of Taylor.

Dr. Martin's responsibilities cover a wide variety of activities that range from presiding at Board of Trustees meetings, to welcoming the freshmen at a reception in his home, to speaking in chapel once a month. But no matter how busy he may be, you can always expect a friendly hello or a wave from the familiar, maroon Buick.

THE TROJANS' most avid fan.

the understanding to direct,
or the hand to execute.”

MR. HARVEY DRIVER, Assistant to the President.

The imminent project of relocation is significant to the Board of Trustees and to all laymen concerned with the Taylor program. The Board members have the responsibility of decisions and planning with regard to the future move and current Taylor policy. Mr. Harvey Driver, Assistant to the President, is the university representative to the industry, churches, and community of Ft. Wayne.

ELAINE HANDSCHU, Secretary to the President.

DR. MILO REDIGER, Academic Dean.

Protection and re-evaluation of standards of the academic Taylor are responsibilities of Dr. Milo Rediger, Academic Dean. Stress on excellence in learning results from his efforts in this area.

The dean's activities range from his position as Vice President to his administration of faculty appointments and field trip permissions.

In his chapel message "The Liberty in Liberal Education" Dr. Rediger challenged students to recognize the importance of absorbing the content of their courses.

"A wise man will hear,
and will increase learning."

BETTY FREEZE, Secretary to the Dean.

The freshman class was the first group of Taylor students to meet our new Dean as he directed New Student Week activities. Mr. Nelson's thoughtful, approachable manner soon gave him the confidence of his new family.

Teaching psychology classes, counseling students, sponsoring the Student Council and in general, helping eight-hundred students live and work together encompass some of the responsibilities of our Dean.

MR. HENRY NELSON, Dean of Students.

HE SAID, "Give it to me, Honey and he got it!"

MR. E. STERL PHINNEY, Registrar and Director of Admissions.

Responsible for the composition of each year's freshman class is E. Sterl Phinney, Registrar and Director of Admissions. Mr. Phinney corresponds with applicants and acquaints them with the Taylor policies and academic program. Applications of prospective students are processed in this office. The Registrar records and publishes grade reports and transcripts. Processes of admission and registration are the central functions of this office.

“Responsibility educates.” — Phillips

MR. ROBERT FREESE, Admissions Counselor and Ruthanne Stout, Secretary to the Admissions Office.

To most Taylor students the Business Office is the place to pay bills and cash checks. To Mr. Keller and his staff this term includes a great deal more. Surrounded by their business machines and records, they are busy financing the Taylor program, keeping the debit and credit sides of the books in balance and recording accounts. They care for student loans and other numerous details such as keeping track of school cars and handling the Youth Conference finances.

MR. PAUL KELLER, Business Manager.

On a door in the basement of Magee Hall is a sign which reads "Alumni Center—Come In!" Here Ed Bruerd and his staff organize the group of alumni that has grown over the 116 years of Taylor's history. Homecoming Day, visits to local alumni chapters, Coffee Breaks, magazines, bulletins and letters are a few of the means used by "Alumni Ed" to keep former Taylorites informed on the progress and development of their Alma Mater.

ALUMNI registering for homecoming activities enjoy the results of careful planning by the alumni office.

TABLES AND CHAIRS appear unusually quiet and empty in this view of the bubble.

Breakfast, lunch, dinner—seven days a week—always on time. Mr. "Joe" Biermann keeps the kitchen and grill producing the good food to which Taylor students have become accustomed. There are few complaints heard as selections are made from a wide variety of salads, hot plates, sandwiches, and desserts. Off-campus and on-campus groups find the kitchen staff available to provide a banquet touch that will make their special occasion more pleasant.

APPETIZING delicacies add festivity to annual buffet dinner.

To Ralph Boyd and his staff has been assigned the task of keeping several dozen buildings in operating order, acres of lawn neatly trimmed, shrubbery and plants carefully manicured and other services too numerous to mention. It is these details that take much of the time and effort and which usually go unnoticed. Work inside the dormitories is carried on by the housekeeping staff directed by Mrs. Lucille Monroe.

Sponsoring the educational films which were shown every Friday afternoon in L-7 was one of the projects of the Science Club. Lectures, field trips, and discussions constituted the monthly meetings of this organization. The meetings were planned with the goal of stimulating students in the scientific phases of the academic program. Science Club participated in planning and sponsoring the Science Lecture Series which was presented March 3-6.

First place winner for the 1962 Homecoming display was Alpha Pi Iota. This organization attempts to offer encouragement and incentive for students pursuing medical and dental courses and to provide information concerning medical education. Alpha Pi Iota meets one Wednesday evening a month and its members attempt to receive from the programs current information in the field of medicine and concepts which will be beneficial to them in preparation for a medical vocation.

National and international affairs are the concern of the members of the Social Science Club. These students meet once a month to discuss issues of vital importance to the social, political, and economic prosperity of this country. They relate these aspects to the events in other nations of the world. Social Science Club sponsored the annual Citizenship Day activities which took place March 27. By keeping up-to-date on the current national situations, the members of the Social Science Club are preparing to be active and conscientious citizens.

"The Auto Industry" provided a unique basis for the programs and activities of the Business Club, Inc. Each month this organization surveyed a different phase of the auto industry and its relation to American economy. This year the Business Club sponsored the "1963 Auto Premier," a project which displayed new automobiles. In December the club members toured the Fisher Body plant in Marion. Business Club, Inc. initiated the Usher Program which provides service for all campus activities and religious services. A segment of this club is the College Christian Business Men's Committee, a group meeting monthly for fellowship and discussion.

PARNASSUS members reflect thoughtful, interested expressions as Al Goetchus reads an original composition.

Careful reading, critical thinking, and creative writing characterize the activities of the Mount Parnassus Literary Club. The group members attempt to develop their literary skills and pursue critical discussions on books which they have read. "Meetings of the Muses," the theme for the year, stimulated the exploration of various literary forms including sonnets, narratives, essays, and plays. Parnassus members sponsor the publication of a magazine containing their creative works and those contributed by the student body. Literary stimulation and encouragement to interested students constitutes the purpose of this organization.

Symposium Dialecticum meets monthly in order to promote discussions of intellectual quality in the realm of the humanities. Each senior presents his thesis on a controversial topic and the other members attempt to analyze and clarify the issues and indicate possible fallacious reasoning. Symposium members attempt to offer topics helpful to each other and to themselves as they learn to defend propositions and organize research materials for presentation.

Moliere and Ionesco offer dramatic contrast

CLEANTE begs permission to marry his father's intended, the lovely Marianne.

MAN'S FUTILE EFFORT to communicate embodies . . .

. . . Ionesco's message in The Chairs.

THE LESSON reveals inability to understand.

The Miser, a 17th Century comedy by Moliere, illustrated the courtly manners and beautiful, extravagant dress of the gentry of this era in French history. The blustery, comical, yet pitiful Fargogon was admirably portrayed by Allen Goetchus. The lovers, Valere and Elise and Cleante and Marianne, were played by Fred Sanderlin, Bonnie McIntire, Bob Finch, and Joan Templin. Other memorable characterizations included the scheming Frosine (Janette Lister), the delightful servant Jacques (Dave Slater), and the comical LaFliche (John Rowley). John Given, Lane Dennis, Thomas Ringenberg, Dave Copham, Gregg Liechty and Tom Schlee completed the cast. Mrs. Gladys Greathouse directed the colorful production.

Three by Ionesco provided an evening of new experience and challenging ideas as Director James Young and the Trojan Players presented The Lesson and The Chairs. David Slater as the Professor, Leanne Levchuk as the Pupil, and Gloria Griffin as the Maid illustrated Ionesco's theory of the futility of communication between human beings. This theme was further developed and the whole absurdity of the human condition expressed in The Chairs. Jim Young and Marcia VanDoren created sensitive portraits of the Old Man and his wife, Semiamas. Thomas Ringenberg, appearing as the orator, climaxes the feverish preparation for the Old Man's message. Electronic music and a display of surrealistic art completed the experience in avant garde art forms.

The Miser, Three by Ionesco, Right You Are — evenings of thought-provoking entertainment

LAUDISI'S OBSERVATION only complicates matters more.

Pirandello's delightful intrigue in Right You Are captured the spirit of modern-day Italy through the production's expertly designed set and its costuming in French and Italian originals. The March production, under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Great-house, presented several new faces to the Trojan stage. These included Alan Atha as the philosopher uncle Laudisi, Judy Bennet and Carl Haaland as Signora and Signor Sirelli, Edith Landrith and Mar-jorie Olsson as Signorias Cini and Nenni, Janet English as Signoria Frola, and Mark Clough as Signor Ponza. The fine acting of these new people was highlighted by the experience of Ellenor Hust-wick as Amalia, Leanne Lavchuck as Dina, and Dale Lantz as Councillor Agazzi. Other cast members included David Mays, Dee Friesen, John Given and Harriet Weber. Dr. Jim Young served as technical director.

THE three leaders of Missionary Conference—Dave Kastelein, President of Ambassadors, Dr. Smith and Dr. Rees.

Missionary Conference 1962 brought Dr. Oswald J. Smith, well-known minister, author and hymn writer from The People's Church in Toronto, Canada, and Dr. Paul Rees, Vice President of World Vision, Inc., to present the theme, "So Send I You."

The need for the spread of gospel literature was shown in the selection of the Ambassadors' project as students pledged to purchase an Evangelism Van and a Service Men's Library.

The three days of missionary emphasis culminated the year-round efforts of Ambassadors to stimulate a concern for the world.

Missionary Conference Stresses Concern

TAYLOR students, heads bowed reverently, illustrate the searching and yielding that is Missionary Conference.

Stimulating student thought in the commission to spread the Gospel to mankind is the purpose of Ambassadors. Weekly programs of this organization attempt to create interest in missions and keep Taylor students informed about the missionary outreach of the Church. Ambassadors sponsored the annual Missionary Conference, November 14-16. At this time a missionary project was selected to provide financial support for an Evangelism Van and a Servicemen's Library. Two meetings each month are designed as prayer evenings for missionaries around the world.

Christian fellowship and witnessing are emphasized.

Functioning as the outreach segment of the Deeper Life Fellowship, Personal Evangelism members visit homes for the aged and children's institutions, work with area churches in home visitation, and participate in street evangelism. "To know Christ and to make Him known" is the central theme of the organization. Training sessions are offered at the beginning of the year to prepare students for personal witnessing on the campus and in the visitation programs. Students are encouraged to attend the Deeper Life Fellowship meetings for spiritual encouragement and knowledge in witnessing.

The Methodist Student Movement attempts to provide fellowship for the students of its denomination and to investigate issues relative to the entire Christian Church. The group meets each Sunday evening to share ideas and activities vital to church development. Speakers, panels, and symposium discussions are some of the methods used by MSM in presenting programs on such subjects as birth control, ecumenicity, philosophy, and creeds of the church. Stimulating discussions bring out individual theories and beliefs concerning issues significant in these times.

Stimulating mature Christian individuals provides a basis for the weekly programs and activities of the Deeper Life Fellowship. Each month the programs are centered around a different theme lending to the spiritual growth of those who participate. Messages through the medium of tape recorder bring various speakers to the meetings. Deeper Life Fellowship sponsored the annual Religion Forum held March 8 in which students were confronted with concepts, ideologies, and theories of religious thinking. Personal Evangelism is the outreach organization of the Deeper Life Fellowship.

Co-ordination of activities related to class competition is the primary function of the Inter-Class Council. Two representatives from each class and their sponsors compose the council. As president of the Senior Class, Tim Burkholder presides over the meetings. Problems arising in the individual classes are brought before the council for discussion and arbitration. Class Day, Talathon, and Move-up Day derive their overall leadership from this group. Inter-Class Council functions as official "clearing house" for scheduling all class events.

Extension of the Honor Principle is the primary concern of the Honor Board. Under the leadership of Chief Justice Pete Kobe, this facet of campus life attempts to build self-discipline within the individual and corporate responsibility for the university within the total student body. Personal concern and responsibility for upholding standards of honor are desired for each member of the student body. The Honor Board provides the judicial procedure necessary for the practical application of the Honor Principle and it strives to interpret and uphold the standards and regulations of the university.

Christmas brings variety of activities

Decorating party in Magee Lounge, candle-light concert, pre-holiday exams—all a part of Taylor activity when "Christmas fever" permeated the campus. Students found the days before vacation filled with an abundance of yuletide festivities. The annual presentation of The Messiah by the Oratorio Chorus provided an inspirational message. Carolers offered annual Christmas favorites to neighboring communities and the lights of a tall Christmas tree in the center of the dining hall shone brightly each evening. "Silver Bells," the theme of the holiday banquet, highlighted the Season. Various organizations celebrated the holiday, and dorm parties were numerous in pre-vacation activities. An all-campus communion service united the Taylor family in the spirit and meaning of the Christmas season.

Indiana Central	6

Taylor opened its '62 season with a resounding 53-6 victory over Indiana Central. The Jones-to-Warner pass combination, which proved to be effective throughout the season, worked perfectly for two of Taylor's TD's. Kermit Starkweather and Bob Larsen each accounted for two more six-pointers with Dan Carpenter and freshman Al Lang scoring on separate 40-yard runs. Ken Flanigan accounted for the remaining points with five successful PAT's.

Taylor	55
Rose Poly	0

Taylor continued her two-touchdowns-a-quarter pace in her second game by manhandling hapless Rose Poly, 55-0. Quarterback Bill Jones threw three passes to speedster Paul Warner and Ken Flanigan place-kicked seven straight extra points, his eighth attempt being blocked in the last quarter. Dan Kastelein, Dave Kastelein, Kermit Starkweather, Dan Carpenter, and Dave Cook joined Warner in the touchdown column for an impressive engineer drudging.

Taylor	7
Earlham	13

A close game was witnessed by fans at Richmond, between the Quakers of Earlman and the Trojans. Until the last two minutes of play, T.U. leading 7-6 appeared to have its third straight victory wrapped up. However, a sixty-nine yard touchdown run on an intercepted pass enabled Earlham to come out on top with a 13-7 triumph. Dave Kastelein capped the only long drive by Taylor with a one-yard plunge T.D. Ken Flanigan's PAT gave the Trojans the temporary lead.

Taylor	28
Franklin	14

The Trojans found the winning track again by trouncing Franklin 28-14 before a large Homecoming crowd. All of Taylor's scoring came in the first half with Dave Kastelein getting two of the four touchdowns. Paul Warner ran across after catching Bill Jones' pass and Dave Sullivan ran an intercepted pass back twenty-four yards for the final T.D. Ken Flanigan booted all four extra points to round out the victory.

DAVE KASTELEIN sprints for a considerable gain as brother Dan and co-captain Kermit Starkweather lead the way.

Taylor	28
Manchester	20

The Trojans kept the lead in the HCC by edging Manchester 28-20 and extending their season record to 4-1. After an early Manchester leap, T.U. scored on a fifty-five yard pass to Paul Warner and on a short run around end by Bob Held. Taylor equalled each T.D. by her opponent in the second half on a Kastelein plunge and a spectacular forty-six yard run by Gary Barber to end the all-important conference game.

Taylor	17
Anderson	7

Taylor gained revenge on last year's defeat at the hands of the Ravens with a 17-7 conquest. The triumph clinched the Hoosier College Championship for the Trojans, who achieved an undefeated conference record. Pass interceptions by Al Long and Dave Sullivan set up the touchdowns by Dave Kastelein and Kermit Starkweather, both on one-yard leaps. Ken Flanigan continued his extra point specialties but also added a vital twenty-eight yard field goal.

BOBBY HELD scurries around left end in the Franklin game.

Taylor	21
Hanover	12

Winding up the HCC season, Taylor maintained its undefeated record with an easy 21-12 victory over winless Hanover. Kermit Starkweather and Dave Kastelein enabled T.U. to enjoy a 14-0 half-time score with two short runs. In the third quarter Kastelein-turned-quarterback fired an 18-yard touchdown pass to Gary Barber. Flanigan again converted all three PAT's to assure the win. Hanover, facing a tough T.U. defense, was only able to score on short plunges, failing to score either extra point.

Taylor	7
Defiance	26

The Trojan bus carried the team 115 miles to Defiance, Ohio, only to be blasted by a tremendous aerial attack. The Yellow Jackets' quarterback and ends were too much for the Taylor defense. Defiance scored four touchdowns. The Taylor offense found the going rough in the rainy weather, scoring only once on a 64-yard pass from Kastelein to Warner in the last period.

Taylor	14
Wilmington	15

In the final clash of the season, Wilmington became Taylor's third scar on the schedule. Wilmington scored with a first quarter touchdown and a two-point conversion, thus leading 8-0. Dave Kastelein scored for Taylor to make the count 8-6, snapping Ken Flanigan's PAT streak. Paul Warner scored on a 52-yard touchdown run and then carried across for 2 points, making the score 14-8. But a final drive by Wilmington offset the Trojan score and resulted in a one-point loss for Taylor.

"YA got me that time," admits Hope's Jim Vanderhill, as Dave Kastelein glances up at referee.

Basketball 1962-1963 experienced one of the most unpredictable seasons in Taylor records. In early season practice Coach Don Odle was confronted with the challenge of rebuilding and molding a varsity squad hindered by the loss of four seasoned starters from last year's second place team. The talented freshman candidates were good prospects to supply the much-needed board strength. For the first time on record, varsity letters were awarded to six freshmen. Returning guard Larry Winterholter, voted most valuable player by his teammates, led the team in scoring with 442 points. Six-foot-six Ed DeVries led the team in rebounding. Other individual honors went to Dave Brennan and Larry Harvey—elected to the tourney team in the Richmond Tournament.

The Trojan squad surprised everyone by winning the Richmond Tournament during Thanksgiving Vacation. This was not to be the only win for Taylor fans by this young, inexperienced team. Highly under-rated, the varsity compiled 15 wins atop 9 losses, and finished the season ranking 5th in scoring among NAIA teams across the country, with an 89.5 game average.

The Taylor five tasted defeat at the hands of the Kentucky State Thorobreds, champions in the Taylor Tourney. Traveling to the banks of the Ohio River, the team skimmed by Hanover College for its first HCC victory. Dave Brennan's last second jump-shot gave Taylor the 74-73 edge. After bowing to a determined Cedarville team the Trojans repeated victories over Goshen, Huntington, and Northwood.

game the following night. Winterholter propelled the attack with 28 points to help trounce Central Michigan 101-82. On the road again after the Christmas trip, the Odlemen were pounded by the Grizzlies at Franklin, 94-74. Returning to their home floor with the cheering of their own fans and pep band, the Taylor five raked in 120 points to Manchester's 94. Freshman Rex Kreigh pumped in 25 to assist in making this the highest game score in Taylor's history. The talented and revengeful Anderson cagers dropped Taylor 109-91 in its fourth conference contest. Despite the 39 points showered in by guard Lee DeTurk, and Larry Harvey's efforts under the boards, the varsity suffered loss again to Indiana Central 89-73.

Continuing on the up and down pattern which characterized the season, the Trojans dealt Wilberforce a mighty blow 105-74, with forwards Kastelein and Sullivan leading the way. The tall Dutchmen from Hope also fell 109-90 before a large community night crowd. Winterholter's 28, DeTurk's 26, and "Big Ed's" fine rebounding were contributing elements.

Taylor again experienced a slump and gave up three conference battles to Anderson, Manchester, and Hanover. Maytag Gym rang with the cheering of Taylor fans as the quintet defied odds and opinions, and upset Indiana Central 85-84. Central, a contender for the HCC crown, was knocked from her berth in what was one of Taylor's most thrilling games. Just a few nights later, the purple and gold giant killers downed Franklin, also a contender for the title, 89-81. Again the Winterholter-DeTurk duo shot over the heads of the defenders for 34 and 28 points respectively.

Promoting Christian aims and principles through athletics is the purpose of T-Club. Sponsored by Coach Bob Davenport, this club seeks to instill leadership and responsibility in its members. First step—pledgeship. Earning a letter in a major sport is not the only requirement. Prospective members must endure the trials of Tuesday evening meetings in G-2 and render faithful allegiance to their “big brothers.” The pledge book, pin, and letter jacket do not represent vain glory, but are a result of hard work, including grueling practice sessions and disciplined training on and off the field. Athletic prayer meeting Monday nights, junior high basketball tourney, camping trip, and crowning the “Sweetheart of Gamma Delta Beta Society” highlight the club’s activities.

SUCCESSFUL SEASON . . .

The spring of 1962 brought many honors to the Taylor baseball team. Facing such foes as Indiana University, University of Cincinnati, Tennessee A and I, Kentucky State, and Ball State made its schedule one of the toughest encountered by a Taylor team. Head Coach Jack King, named "Coach of the Year" by his colleagues, spurred the team on to an HCC championship. Superb pitching by All-Conference Larry Winterholter enabled the Trojans to defeat Indiana University 11-5. All-Conference laurels went to Ben Mosher, Ed Foss, Larry Winterholter, and Dave Bingeman. Ben Mosher, a 1962 grad, was named "Most Valuable Player" and led the team in runs batted in. The best individual batting average of .352 was achieved by short-stop Dave Bingeman. Highlighting the season were the spring trip, the 25-7 victory over Franklin, and the 3-0 shut-out over Hanover by Loran Skinner. Culminating the season was the all-important double-header against Anderson College. Losing the first game 9-3, Taylor came back to win the second by a narrow 5-4 margin, but this was all that was needed for the HCC crown.

. . . GIVES IMPETUS FOR ANOTHER

The night winter sports were over marked the beginning of a new season for the Trojan baseball squad. Coaches Jack King and Ben Mosher turned tiny Maytag into an arena for full-scale batting and pitching. The desire to work hard and the discipline needed in pre-season training typified every member of the 1963 team.

TROJAN MILE RELAY TEAM. Mark Bayert, Gary Barber, Merv Scott, and Dave Sullivan break into a sprint in a practice lap.

HURDLERS Bill Crain and Dave Anderson work on their form despite poor weather conditions.

The beginning of the 1963 track season found Coach George Glass' tracksters diligently training for what they hoped would be their most successful season. The many veterans from last year's squad enabled this record shattering team to continue its efforts against even stiffer competition than previously encountered. Transfers Paul Warner in the dashes, Gary Jones in the shot-put and discus, and several gifted freshmen aided the veteran cindermen in establishing new records. The extensive spring tour, the home triangular meet with the University of Louisville and Kentucky State, and the HCC contest at Manchester were the high points of the season.

AN INVITATION TO CONSIDER DENVER

For your graduate training for Christian service, we invite you to give serious thought to the Conservative Baptist Theological Seminary of Denver. Now in its thirteenth year, this growing school offers such advantages as a low faculty-student ratio, an expanding library, and a trained faculty.

Recent evidence of the Seminary's steady advance is apparent in two areas: acceptance into Association of Theological Schools, and the purchase of a 31-apartment married students' residence.

Continue your training in a school which emphasizes Biblical studies, missions, and Baptist distinctives.
